Brentwood Business Owners Association. The BBOA organizes owners of Brentwood businesses to improve businesses and the Brentwood community.

Lawrence County Builders Association. This is a group that serves anyone connected to the construction industry in Lawrence County.

Lions Club. The Lions Club is the world's largest service club organization.

Northern Allegheny Builders Association. This association supports organizations that are connected to the construction industry in the area.

Pittsburgh Technology Council. For over 25 years, the council has worked to improve businesses in the greater Pittsburgh area that use technology.

SMC Business Councils. One of Pennsylvania's premier business associations dedicated to growing small to mid-sized businesses with a diverse selection of benefits available to its members.

Washington County Manufacturers Association. This association's purpose is to improve the manufacturing industry in Washington County, Pa.

Clearview is dedicated to serving the above professional organizations and are eager to get involved with other groups in the future. As always, if you have any questions about how Clearview can help your business or how to get involved with any of the above organizations, please feel free to call me at (412) 269-3033.
